SCHOOL PROFILE

Created in 1997, Alliance Européenne is a European private higher technical education institution based in Périgueux (France).

The institution offers courses ranging from a high school diploma to master's degrees in fields such as administration, marketing, human resources and finance. The school is keen on providing quality education that is exposed to Europe and the world through European diplomas, including courses in English in partnership with the University of Cambridge, of which it is one of the three certified centres in the Nouvelle-Aquitaine region, as well as through a series of lectures on Europe and its issues.

A modest-sized school, Alliance Européenne places personalised supervision and guidance at the heart of its pedagogical approach. Thanks to courses delivered through work-study programmes, the institution promotes the professionalisation and employability of its students, right from graduation.

The quality training is delivered in small groups led by professional lecturers with high academic distinctions in a given speciality, thus ensuring that courses taught are aligned with the emerging expectations of the job market.

The FEDE is an INGO International Non-Governmental Organisation and a supranational institution that was created in 1963, which is endowed with participatory status with the Council of Europe.

It federates an international network comprised of over 500 higher and professional education institutions in 35 countries across 4 continents, which share a common project that is hinged on academic excellence, pedagogical innovation, scientific research and openness to the world.

The FEDE delivers 90 European degrees that are available in English and in the national language, from the Foundation Degree, the European Bachelor's Degree, the European Master's Degree to the DBA Doctorate of Business Administration. The FEDE counts an international network of over 180,000 alumni.
